Sunflower oil is one of the most widely used vegetable oils in the world. It is extracted from the seeds of the sunflower plant, whose use dates back to the 18th century in Russia before becoming popular for both household and industrial purposes. This oil is known for its light golden color and clear appearance, and its medium viscosity makes it ideal for various cooking methods, including deep frying, grilling, and salad dressings. Chemically, sunflower oil is composed of high levels of unsaturated fatty acids such as linoleic acid (Omega-6) and oleic acid (Omega-9). It is also rich in natural Vitamin E and antioxidants, and contains NO CHOLESTEROL.

TÜRKIYE

Leads the World in Sunflower Oil Production

1.5 Million Tons.

Türkiye is one of the world's largest producers of edible oils, with an annual production volume of approximately 5 million tons, including 1.5 million tons of sunflower oil. This makes Türkiye the third-largest producer of sunflower oil globally, following Russia and Ukraine. Sunflower oil is also the most exported among all types of oils, accounting for nearly 70% of Türkiye's total edible oil exports.

HIGH QUALITY:

Türkiye is renowned for its high-quality oil products, particularly olive oil, ranking first globally in terms of production and export quality. Turkish oils are subject to strict standards to ensure quality and safety, meeting international criteria and importer requirements. All edible oil manufacturing facilities in Turkey utilize modern technologies that adhere to environmental safety standards throughout the production process.

EXPORT CAPACITY:

Türkiye boasts an advanced infrastructure that supports large-scale production of various types of edible oils. With numerous ports and modern shipping lines, the country is well-positioned to export edible oil efficiently from production areas to global markets especially in the Middle East and North Africa.

However, Türkiye exports around 800,000 tons of edible oil annually to many countries worldwide, with sunflower oil representing 70% of that total.
